

Starting an OverWatchUSA
'Hundred'

Our 5 Battlegrounds are:

Biblical Focus: Overwatch USA seeks to anchor everything we do on the Word of God. We are committed to evangelism and discipleship as Christ commands in His word. As we grow, we desire to give God the glory in all things!

Education: OUSA seeks to properly educate Americans of all ages on History through a true view, pushing back against Revisionist History. To teach the populace on our foundational documents and liberties constitutionally guaranteed by the US Constitution and Bill of Rights, and to support and facilitate the proper education of our children.

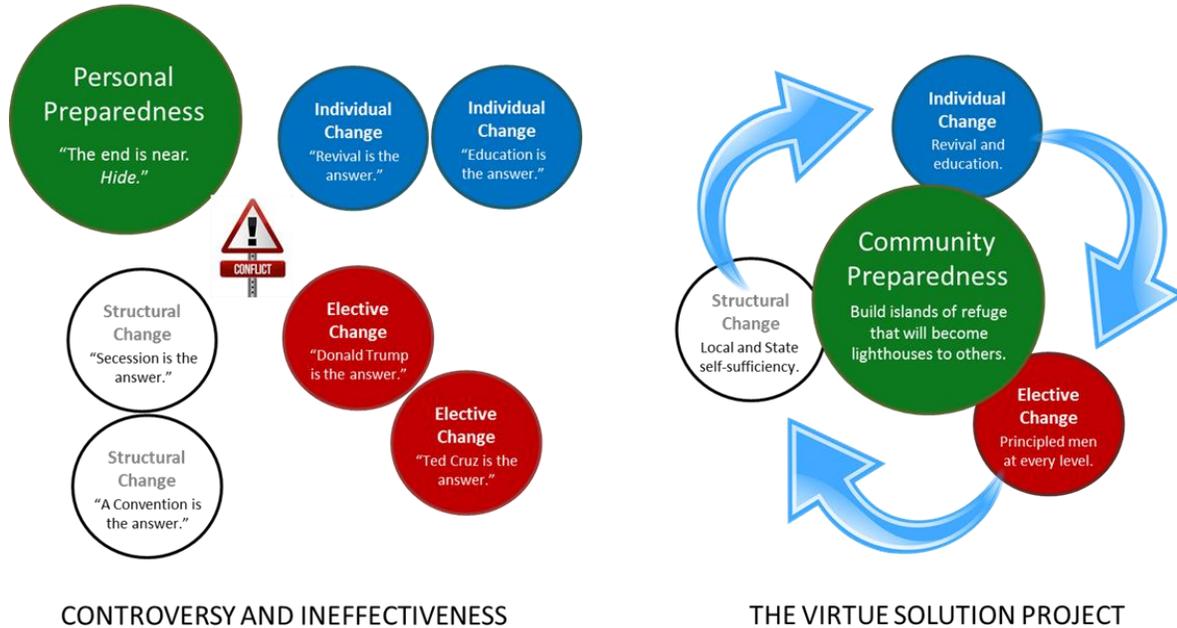

Civics: As an organization we remain committed to the ideals of liberty and moral self-government, and we will advocate and promote those as well as our constitutional liberties. Another need that has been identified, has been to educate believers and churches on responsibility and civics, and urge them to rise up in courage. We will support constitutional candidate for office, and turn against all those who threaten our liberty.

Life! OUSA is dedicated to the abolition of abortion and the ending of human trafficking and enslavement. Yes, we can end the state sanctioned slaughter of children! And we can put a major dent in human trafficking.

OverWatchUSA Defense: In the Spirit of the 2nd Amendment, Overwatch USA includes an armed defense and disaster relief component, with the understanding that we will never be the aggressors, but will, when called upon, protect and defend our communities, our Churches, our homes, our families, and our American liberties, to the last man if necessary. OUSA's Service Force will serve our communities, state, and nation as both a defense force, and as a disaster relief and community service organization.

Starting a Hundred in your Community

How Virtue Provides a Comprehensive Plan

Withdrawing from society a la “doomsday prepper” solves nothing. We need lighthouses, not monasteries.

OverWatchUSA Local Hundred: OverWatchUSA calls our local chapters, ‘Hundreds’, based on a plan laid down by Thomas Jefferson. The OverWatchUSA Hundred is the axis where the entire plan comes together. In building these local hundreds, we aim to build Patriot Christian Communities, engaged at every level of their local community, and standing guard over Liberty. A united voice and vision for the local area, and a defense and response against tyranny.

The OUSA Local Hundred will be the place of meeting, where concerns are addressed, plans are made, and action is taken. A place where local politics and local leadership can be improved, encouraged, or countered. Where the education of our children and others can be fostered. A local think tank where the ideals of liberty are cared for, nurtured and grown. And a place of defense, preparedness and refuge for our families, churches and communities.

The Local Hundred is where local rallies, events, and countering local tyranny can be fostered. No longer does one have to confront the ‘Local Karen’ by oneself, but shoulder to shoulder with like-minded patriots. Where a town council sees strength in numbers with a loud voice, and where liberty minded politicians can get a jump start.

A Local Hundred is where Christian Ministry and community service can be fostered. Where we can take a stand against Abortion, against the indoctrination of our children and against the tearing down of our History.

Basic Structure and Membership

Setting up the OUSA Local Hundred is easy. It can be led by as few as 2 people.

Director of the Local Hundred: The key leader and point of contact, is the Director of the Local Hundred. For example, the Director of the Greenville Hundred. This key leader is responsible for setting the vision and direction for their local community, guiding meetings providing some oversight for events and activities within a Hundred.

Directors of Local Hundreds can be chosen two different ways. They can be elected by the membership of the Local Hundred. Or they can be the Founder of the Local Hundred.

Each Hundred can set up how long a Director of a Hundred serves, if they are elected every year, or every 2-4 years, or indefinite until they step down.

The Director of the Local Hundred reports to his/her Area Director for OverWatchUSA, as well as State and National OUSA leadership.

Captain of Defense: The Officer in charge of the local OverWatch Service Force (OSF) company. His job is to set up the local defense and service establishment, called a company, of the Local Hundred. He leads the local defense company, and is responsible for it's training, conduct, and readiness.

The Captain is either selected by the leadership of his Local Hundred or voted in by its membership if the position is vacant. In an established Hundred, a Lieutenant may be promoted to Captain to take his place. His position beyond that is not elected every period, he stays at his position until promoted or demoted within OSF.

The Captain reports to his local Hundred and coordinates with and reports to other local OUSA Defense groups and state and national OUSA Defense.

Other Local Leadership can include and is not limited to an Assistant Local Hundred Director, Treasurer, Secretary, Chaplin, Education Leader, Civics Leader, Life Coordinator, and additional officers and non-commissioned officers under the defense OSF establishment.

Beyond this basic organization, each Hundred can tailor their group to what works for them. OUSA requires each group to have a Director for their Hundred, and we that a Captain of defense be appointed and a defense OSF company be raised. OverWatchUSA has materials on how to raise and structure a OSF defense company.

Membership: There is no official list of OUSA membership, any membership will be handled at the local Hundreds level. If that local hundred wants to have membership cards and rolls, have at it. OUSA on a national level will not do that.

Members of the local hundred can be a member at large and have their hand in many different activities, or dedicated to one of the five battlegrounds (Biblical Focus, Civics, Education and Life especially). Members in the Defense company will be members of the OSF (OverWatchUSA Service Force) and will have a different level of commitment and organization as determined by the local defense establishment.

Dues are determined by the Local Hundred. But must be reasonable and affordable for the membership, and in economically hard times may need to be done away with completely. Dues are due annually and may not exceed more than $40 per family, and $30 per individual not in a family.

OUSA will require each hundred pay dues of $100 to the national OverWatchUSA to support the overall state and national organization.

Forming Your Local Hundred in 7 Easy Steps:

Before you start an OverWatchUSA Hundred, contact OUSA at info@overwatchusa.org and request an OverWatchUSA Working Agreement. This agreement merely establishes your Hundred as an official part of OverWatchUSA and is an agreement to maintain certain standards. We can email you a copy and you can mail it back to us, or scan and send via email.

Step One: Start by identifying likeminded friends and acquaintances. People you know and trust! Then meet and show them just what OverWatchUSA is and what we are doing. If possible, form your initial leadership team. If not, don't worry about it just yet.

Step Two: Identify a place for your first meeting, a church, a patriot owned business, or a large home. Invite like minded folks to your first meeting and get it on the calendar within a week or so.

Step Three: Have your first meeting! Present to them the OverWatchUSA Hundreds concept (we have presentation videos, materials and even a condensed presentation if you need it). If you need help, contact OverWatchUSA and request someone come out and present the concept. We are here to help!

Step Four: Identify one or more 'micro-hubs' to meet at weekly or bi-weekly. This can be a Patriot owned coffee shop, restaurant, business, or church, perhaps even a larger home. If your local hundred is large with many members, you don't all have to meet at the same location. In fact, you can meet at a few.

Step Five: Hold meeting number two: This meeting is to discuss the Five Battlegrounds of OUSA and give folks an idea of where they could fit in. It is a great idea at this point to select Hundred leadership if you haven't already.

Step Six: Meeting number three. Finding Microhubs and building a business alliance. Hopefully you have already found a place to meet by this point, this meeting is all about finding allied businesses and places that will support the work of OUSA and the local hundred.

Step Seven: Community Deployment. Your fourth meeting will be discussing just how your local hundred will be 'deployed', that is, how you will begin to go about preserving liberty, and building a community on a local level.

After these Seven steps are complete, your local Hundred will be considered fully established and ready to go in OUSA!

OverWatchUSA has meeting outlines available for the first four meetings of the Local Hundred.

Ongoing Support: OverWatchUSA is committed to supporting the local structure and Hundreds. Each State in OUSA has a State Director, and each state is divided into 2 or more geographic areas. These State and Area Staff members are there to provide support and help your Hundred thrive.

Local OSF defense units will work with other OSF defense groups across their counties and states and can come together to handle larger emergencies and disasters. OUSA is committed to building simple but effective structure to support defense units and provide some basic command structure for larger situations.

The National OUSA will be responsible for overseeing staff, providing a level of accountability, updating curriculum and materials, and providing oversight during a crisis. OUSA is led by A President and Vice President, and a Board of Directors.
